Worlds Apart... Coming Together!

The depth & breadth of diversity in the WeHaKee setting is so much more than race or ethnicity. The variety of our campers can be defined by geography, faith & spirituality, developmentally and socio-economically. And it is displayed in interests and opportunities—WeHaKee offers a vast array of activity choices helping girls expand those interests with endless opportunities!

Under the direction of the Dominicans of Sinsinawa, WeHaKee Camp for Girls has been committed to providing diverse opportunities to a diverse community for 90 years. But this commitment does not come without challenges. As expenses increase, keeping WeHaKee affordable for all becomes ever more difficult. With your help, we can ensure that a vibrant community of unique individuals can continue to thrive on the shores of Hunter Lake as we celebrate our 90th Anniversary!

Two Girls with Two Stories...

"The first time I came to camp, I was 10 years old. I had been swept up in the excitement, but every night I couldn't stand being away from home. I loved camp, but homesickness kept me away from this wonderful place for the next 3 years. I decided to come back to camp when I was 14 and 15 and loved every minute of it.

This year was different however. My triplet sister and friends from home wouldn't be able to come back to camp. I was anxious and nervous about taking a risk in coming back when things would be so different. But I am so glad I did! WeHaKee has made me more of an individual, a leader and a better friend."

"This was my first year at Camp WeHaKee. Last winter, I thought I would like to do something different this summer. So, my Mom found Camp WeHaKee on the internet and everything just worked out! I took a chance and decided to come. I was really nervous, because I had never been to an all girls camp and I didn't know anyone. Coming to WeHaKee has been one of the best decisions I've made. So far, I have met so many new people and have made so many new friends. I can honestly say WeHaKee is the best camp ever!! Even though I took two planes, a bus and a car to get here and I'm over 1500 miles from my home in New York, Camp WeHaKee will forever be my second home!"

"Camp WeHaKee is a place where hugs from strangers are always accepted, being loud is always better and friends come from all around the world.
You can always be enthusiastic and goofiness is always welcome.
Camp WeHaKee is a place
where you come as friends,
but leave as family!"
